Highlighting the Homecoming parade is the senior class float, Action Giant. The cleverly designed float is illuminated and movable.

Queen Carolyn Kukta charmingly smiles to the crowd.

The lights tell the story of a well-deserved Homecoming victory.

The theme of commercials painted the 1966 Homecoming festivities on Oct. 21. Booster Club's spirit week activated good spirit for the big day. Homecoming day opened with a colorful splash of huge pop bottles and a Pioneer wagon, which were part of the Booster Club display. The pep assembly, including a pep talk by Mr. Powell, enthused students. Homeroom signs shaded the gym. Senior skit Tech Tigers and the white knight delighted everyone. The climax of the assembly was the announcement of the Homecoming Queen, Carolyn Kukta. Carolyn and her court, seniors, Joan Poracky and Val Johnson; junior, Betty Lesak; sophomore, Linda Seth; freshman, Jeanne Milligan reigned over the day. Pastel hues of paper flowers colored the Homecoming parade. First place ribbons in the car division were awarded to the Junior Class and Latin Club. A half time show with band and pom-pom girls, a victorious game, and a dance ended an exciting picture for all Clark students.

Enthusiasm and happiness are easily seen in the faces of Clark fans.

Portrait Of Our Year Is Painted By

Studying, challenging, questioning. Cheering, lauding, hushed silence. Buying season tickets, casting a vote. Wearing a formal or tux, receiving a diploma. Making the honor roll, getting a pass, hanging crepe paper. Rehearsing for a concert, getting into character. Cleaning a locker, running to beat the homeroom bell, awaiting 3:40 dismissal. Sinking a putt, returning a punt. Visiting a counselor, changing a schedule. Growing up, acting young. Setting ideals, rejecting traditions. Finishing twelve years of education, preparing to learn for a lifetime. Experiencing ecstasy, suffering a loss.

Teenage problems are clearly seen on the face of Jim Charnago.

Locker room pep talks inspire a discouraged Pioneer team.

Growing from each minute experience, every Clarkite is affected by and affects this school year. His contributions, along with his companions, help make this year different from all others. All one thousand sixty students and faculty give this year a style of its own because of their own uniqueness as personalities. Like a single puzzle piece, each course, activity, experience, or person, alone, is inadequate to give the total picture of 1966-1967. But every incomplete part is integral to view this year in its proper perspective. Put together by Clarkites, these parts help to paint a portrait of our year.

Pinnacles Are Surmounted By Ambitious

Proper lighting completes the effect of an assembly.

Events colored white, blue, bronze, red, and tan personalized the portrait of our year. The Great Blizzard of '67, new band uniforms, a fire in the prop room, the Victory Bell and fieldhouse made 1967 a memorable year for Clark students.

This year Clark's athletic teams moved into their new home away from school, the fieldhouse, and the band received their long awaited uniforms. The semester break was surprisingly expanded by the Great Blizzard of '67. With the arrival of Sectionals the Victory Bell was presented to the school by the Student Council. Early last spring the theatrical prop and dressing room was gutted by fire.

Play Is Good News In More

The final production of the 1965-1966 school year, Good News was a rollicking success. The colorful performances entertained two full house audiences.

The plot concerns life at Tait College in Ohio. With football as the background, love blooms between Babe and Bobby, and Connie and Tom. Meanwhile, Tom must pass his astronomy exam in order to play in the Tait-Colton game.

The color of life on campus: football games, cheerleaders, exams, and songs gave vitality to the musical. Long hard work by cast and director paid off in the end and Miss Knapp's last play will linger in the memories of all.

"Wise-up boys, she knows the game."

"Surprise" is the understatement as George Yersich and Craig Spaulding take a good long look at each other.

Than Name Only

Tom insists that Venus is next to him, not in the heavens.

The entire cast belts out a happy song in the play Good News.

"Pygmalion" a Success at Clark As

Doug Guy and Lola McPherson discuss their futures in Pygmalion.

After six weeks of strenuous rehearsals "Pygmalion" by G. Bernard Shaw was presented by the Junior Class. The successful show of the Class of '68 also marked the first direction of a Clark play by Mrs. Barbara Savoy.

Act One opened during a sudden summer rain which caught Mrs. Eynsford-Hill (Annette Flaris) and her daughter Clara (Maureen Gaspar) by surprise. They are told by the bystanders (Bob Ruf and Jim Condes) and Freddy Eynsford-Hill (Jim Francis) that there is no chance of getting a cab. Through various incidents Colonel Pickering, Eliza Doolittle and Henry Higgins (George Yearsich, Lola McPherson and Eric Tangalos) are introduced. Later Freddy returned with the taxicab driver (Mike Dzurocik) only to find his mother and sister have left.

Act Two found Eliza on Higgins' doorstep ready to be transformed into a duchess. Higgins and Pickering were willing to give it a try, but Mrs. Pearce (Eileen Jancosek) did not really approve. Later Alfred Doolittle, Eliza's father (Doug Guy), came to Higgins to claim his daughter, but a mutual agreement was reached that was satisfactory to all involved.

Eliza Doolittle and her flower basket are the focus of attention outside the cathedral as Shaw begins his tale of Pygmalion.

Savoy Directs The Junior Class

The Pygmalion cast relaxes after the performances. Front Row: J. Grinstead, E. Jancosek, L. McPherson, D. Guy, J. Snider, M. Gaspar. Second Row: J. Francis, E. Tangalos. Third Row: J. Condes, B. Ruf, M. Dzuravcik, G. Yearsich.

In Act Three Eliza is given her first real test. She is introduced to Mrs. Higgins (Jan Snider) and the Eynsford-Hills. After she and the Eynsford-Hills departed, a spirited discussion took place between Mrs. Higgins, Higgins and Colonel Pickering. In Act Four, after a huge ball, Eliza, angry with Higgins, ran away to Mrs. Higgins.

The next day, in Act Five, Mrs. Higgins' parlormaid (Jeanne Grinstead) brought the news that Henry was looking for Eliza. After Higgins told his mother that Eliza had disappeared for no reason, Alfred Doolittle entered to reveal that he had been transformed into a gentleman. After Eliza appeared she and Higgins argued heatedly at the end of which she walked out on him. The story ended happily, however, as Eliza returned to Higgins, and the curtains closed.

Henry Higgins defends his teaching of Eliza to her father Alfred Doolittle. Colonel Pickering intently looks on.

Red Rocks Splash By Clarkite Travelers

An unusual view of the Statue of Liberty is captured by a Clarkite.

School-sponsored vacations took students east, west, and south of the border. The Jr.-Sr. class trip introduced the Pioneers to an Eastern accent. In October these students journeyed to Washington, D. C. and New York. Remarkable was the dignity of Washington, and the hustle of New York. Kennedy's grave, the Mint and Washington Monument highlighted this four-day trip.

During spring vacation Forum Club sponsored tours to Colorado and Mexico. The Rockies were viewed from both countries. Colorado tourists will never forget rust-colored ground and rugged terrain. Mexico tourists were treated to vivid colors and dry climate.

Clarkites Go Mod And Mad Over Money

In addition to doing their homework and participating in extracurricular activities, many Clark students hold part-time jobs. Clarkites work in local restaurants, grocery stores, and gas stations. These students not only earn extra money, but learn responsibility, respect, and the ability to get along with others.

Following the trend set by the college group, students wore V-neck sweaters with paisley, pin-stripe, and pastel shirts. Girls turned toward the boyish look. Button down blouses were fully equipped with fruit loops. Loafers were still tops in the shoe department. Although skirts and sweaters were very popular, the Carnaby-street look invaded America. Double-breasted jackets, mod dresses, and peacoats, creations from England, were frequently worn.

Beats For Clarkites

The assembly program, under the direction of Mr. Erickson, mixed new entertainment and knowledge with a few of the old standards. Mr. Bumiller and his travelogues returned, as did the Convict assembly. The Indian's way of life was presented by Ton-Tobi. Band and Choral concerts, the Red Cross movie, and Student Council assemblies composed a large portion of our program.

This year was also the scene of the "Happening" as all underclassmen Language Clubs, Art Club and C-Club presented their annual dances. The Homecoming, Senior Class dance, and Inaugural Ball highlighted an exciting year of Clark programs.

Hypnotist Entertained At Prom

Traditional grand march led by the Junior Class officers is an ending to a wonderful evening filled with memories.

Miss Johnston and Mr. Erickson, Junior Class sponsors, dance to the music provided at the Jr.-Sr. Prom, "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream."

The Hotel Windermere in Chicago was the scene of the 1966 Junior Class Prom held on May 20. The elegant ballroom gave the Prom an atmosphere of "Mid-Summer Night's Dreaminess". The Junior and Senior class officers and their dates lead the impressive grand march to the music of the Don Fernando orchestra.

An after-Prom party was held at Vogel's restaurant. A dinner was served, and a well-known hypnotist, Edwin L. Baron, provided an interesting program with the help of volunteers. The Batmen, a local group ended the evening with music of a faster pace.

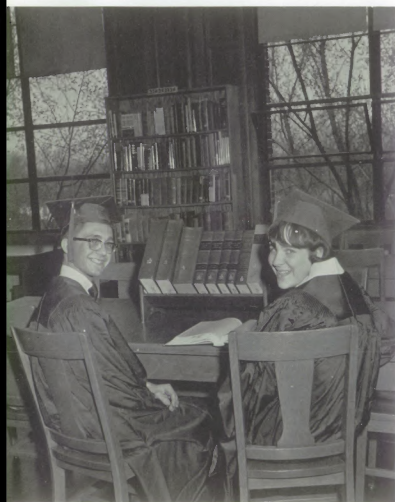

Lost in the music of an enchanting evening, couples dance together.

Fate Forms Future Of Seniors

Graduation was a very unique experience for the 1967 graduates as it has been and will be for all seniors. The young people were taking important steps as they walked down the aisles of the Tech auditorium during Commencement, June 7. Four years full of not just textbook learning but also general living experience prepared the seniors for the day. A feeling of anticipation and a longing to go back four years filled each graduate. Baccalaureate exercises and the Senior Banquet were just two of the many climaxes to a wonderful year.

ACADEMICS

Valedictorian Jerry Kruczek accumulated at 3.976 average.

There were many honors and awards bestowed on worthy students in the year of '67. The position of valedictorian was awarded to the student with the highest scholastic average in his graduating class, Jerry Kruczek. The second highest position was that of salutatorian and was held by Marianne Masura. Other seniors who received honorable mention for their scholastic achievements were the top ten, now eleven scholars. Each of these students reached these outstanding goals through hard work and industrious efforts.

Scholars who displayed superior talents were honored through various awards. The Elizabeth Lyle Memorial Award was presented to the junior who did the most outstanding work in the field of biology.

Numerous Honors

The Class of 67's salutatorian was Marianne Masura.

Top Ten, Seated: M. Dubon, D. Harrison, K. Peterson, S. Rezak.
Standing: J. Piskowski, L. Shifflett, W. Rudzinski, H. Stecy, J. Bangert.

National Commended Merit Scholars: W. Rudzinski, T. Whiteside, J. Kruczek, K. Peterson, M. Duhon.

Are Bestowed On Clark Scholars

Each year awards based on scholarship and citizenship are presented by local chapters of clubs to outstanding students.

The Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizenship Award was presented to the senior girl who possessed the qualities of leadership, citizenship, dependability, service, and patriotism. The Hammond Rotary Club, an organization composed of teachers and businessmen, honored several outstanding senior boys. These Junior Rotarians were selected on the basis of scholarship to represent Clark at the Rotary Club's weekly luncheon meetings. The purpose of this great privilege was to prepare these future leaders for their role in our community.

Students who scored highly on the National Merit Scholarship Test received commended Scholar awards at a dinner given by the Bell Telephone Company. This year Clark had five such students.

Is Splashed With Shakespearean Hues

Shakespeare's hues, shades of Frost, and glitters of Mark Twain colored a canvas of English literature for 1966-67. While reading romanticism to contemporary literature, students also brushed up on English grammar and usage. Advanced Composition students pictured themselves in Greece while reading the plight of Oedipus Rex. They then journeyed to the Globe Theatre to study the tragedy of Hamlet. Junior literature classes found themselves atop Moby Dick, while the sophomore literature classes glanced at a picture of ancient Rome through the play Julius Caesar. Medieval shades of Ivanhoe splashed through the minds of frosh literature students. Poetry, short stories, novels, and essays added the finishing touches to a picture of literature.

Speech and debate classes, two combining pastels provided a glimpse of new confidence. Demonstration, informative, and ice-breaker speeches were presented in speech class. Topics on world affairs flashed by debaters.

Language Barriers Crack As

Landscapes of culture and background in foreign lands. The language department offers an educational and interesting program for Latin, French, German, and Spanish students. Language labs added an aural effect to a picture of foreign lands. While translating Caesar and Cicero, young Romans learned about daily Roman life in Latin classes. Frosh, sophomore, and Advanced Latin classes prepared projects on daily Roman life. Grammar, French novels, and skits aided French students for a better knowledge of the French language. German students looked at glimpses of educational and interesting landscapes of German songs, William Tell, vocabulary, and grammar. Filmstrips on daily Spanish living, Spanish songs, and translations helped students gain a better knowledge of the Spanish language. The language department this year proved to be a landscape well viewed.

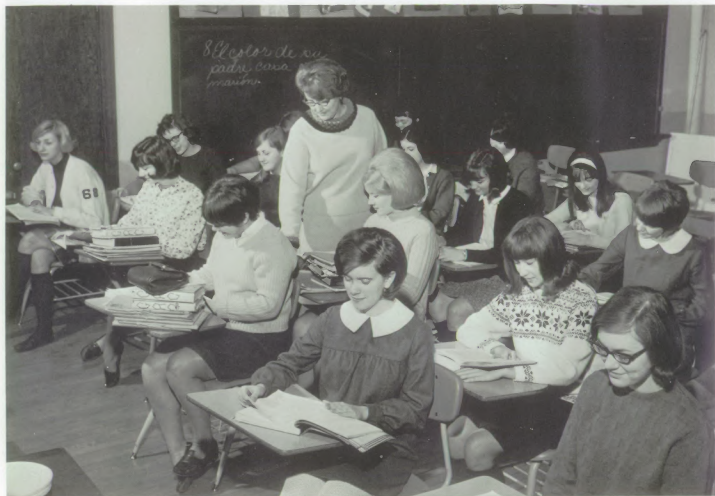

The basic umlaut vowel is mastered in first year German. That day, Mrs. Calvert requires both boys and girls to bring mirrors.

Advanced Latin scholars George Yearsich and Sharon Kulasak demonstrate the persuasive oratory of Cicero.

Clarkites Become Linguists

Third and fourth year French students widen knowledge of the language through conversing, reading literature and studying grammar.

Closing his eyes in concentration, George Humphreys listens intently in the language lab to Spanish dialogue.

Supply-demand curves, monetary policy, and complexities of Keynes' "new economics" are introduced by Mr. Majcher.

Social Sciences Help Clarkites Learn

Mr. Charlet, Clark's first Fulbright scholar to India, clarifies a fine point in our American political structure.

Contemporary history students learn through the use of magazines.

About Their World

Economics and government, required courses for graduation, presented the complex mechanisms of our government and the basic principles of democracy at work.

Geography students delved into the physical study of countries, with an emphasis on people.

Learning that history repeats itself, students in world and United States history classes traced prehistoric man to modern times and drew many parallels.

Social problems, an elective, offered Clarkites a basic understanding of the forces motivating a person's behavior.

One's scope is limited only by his imagination. The Social Studies department attempted to increase students' scope by presenting ideas of people, past and present, and the land in which they live.

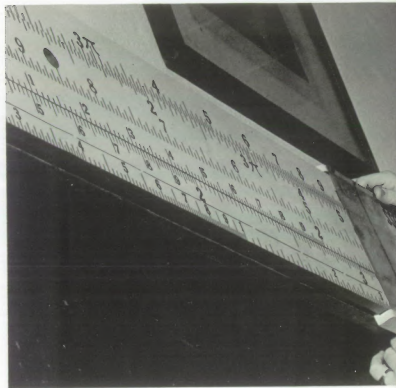

Pam Miles points out the location of the Battle of Hastings.

George Yearsich explains logarithms to an advanced Algebra class.

Math Department Offers A Wide

Class participation helps trig students to understand many difficult concepts. Brian Cornelison solves a problem while the class looks on.

Practicing on a giant slide proves helpful to Prudy Davis.

Variety Of Courses

Preparation for college and for business careers was the objective of the Clark Math Department. Under the direction of Mr. Emerson Aldrich, the Math Department offers a variety of challenging courses to college-bound students. After obtaining a fundamental knowledge in beginning algebra and geometry, the students were able to elect advanced algebra, trigonometry and introductory analysis.

Freshman algebra students were introduced to positive and negative numbers, equations, axioms, and other basic concepts. Plane geometry, a sophomore level course, emphasis logic thinking in terms of theorems, axioms, and geometric figures. Juniors analyzed complex equations and logarithms. Seniors studied intricate mathematical problems to prepare for college work.

Freshman Eugene Wisemiller graphs a linear equation.

Plastic models help demonstrate spatial relationships.

Physics And Chemistry Offer A Challenge

The ultimate goal of theoretical chemistry is an understanding of our physical environment. This is attempted mainly through the creation of mental models which correctly predict the behavior of matter.

A course in chemistry is designed to introduce these models, show the student their value, and give him the opportunity to employ them in extending his knowledge of chemistry. This is accomplished through reading, class discussion, and, whenever possible, by actual experience in the laboratory. Experiences in the laboratory vary greatly, from the seemingly simple task of observing a burning candle to an investigation of quantitative chemical equilibrium. In all, these experiences show the student a practical definition of chemistry: what a chemist does.

The macro-science, physics, make Clarkites aware of energy, motion, and force. Unlike chemistry, a macro-science, physics, presented problems calculated in tons and meters.

The "why" of everyday occurrences had juniors view boiling water and a truck crossing a bridge with new prospective.

Music changed from a natural phenomenon to an understandable happening when class members brought their band and orchestra instruments to demonstrate the relation of pitch and frequency.

In June the students viewed the world with a better understanding. The two classes brought laws into a sharper focus by individual experimentation.

Lloyd Burch uses simple mechanical apparatus to understand complex physical principles.

To Clark Students

Chemistry is often a source of mechanical aptitude as Seniors Lynda Miller and Jim Mecklin soon find out.

Science-minded Students Study The Substituting for Miss Wilharm is Mrs. Leland. She watches over an Earth Science class as they take a test.

Students study simple forms of life, punnett squares, and dissect worms in Mr. Powell's biology class.

Animate And Inanimate

Enthusiasm for biology glows as Pete Stecy studies the cell structure of an elodea leaf through the lens of a microscope.

Biology students began the study of the scientific aspects of life. The classes were updated with the introduction of the new text. Supplementing the course was the use of an egg incubator which was built by the Advanced Biology class the preceding summer.

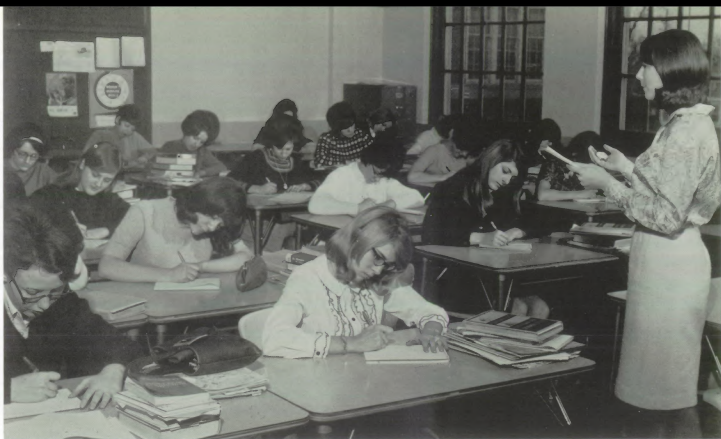

Earth Science students traveled to the Adler Planetarium to complement their classroom studies of the solar system and universe. The course included studies of the weather, and the geography and geology of the earth.

Summer courses of advanced biological study for interested students have now been offered to afford a chance for students to learn more of the world about them.

Health students learned the basics of keeping healthy and how their bodies function.

Health student Richard Kessler emphasizes report with model eye.

Beginning shorthand students are given timed transcription tests. Emphasis is placed on the ability to take dictation and to write the notes in longhand.

Clarkites Enter Field Of Business

Typing students are encouraged to maintain good posture. Both business and college prep students find typing a necessary skill.

Modern Equipment Aids Their Study

Business courses ranged from general typing to shorthand and transcription, the final step for some students. Business law, bookkeeping, business machines, and math also trained students for business careers.

Senior girls in the advanced shorthand class had the opportunity to join the Future Secretaries Club, sponsored by Miss Joan Coughlin. These students subscribed to a monthly magazine, Today's Secretary, which broadened their knowledge of business terms and practices.

These business courses were keyed to the needs of the students entering the business field or a business school upon graduation.

Concentration is readily seen on Gloria Miterko's face as she types.

Creativity, Whether In The Lab Or In

The desire to express creativity, whether behind a paint-spattered smock or "over a hot stove", was enthusiastically encouraged in Clark's extensive fine arts program. Dormant talents were awakened in a variety of subjects; out of Clark's mechanical drawing, art, sewing, music, and cooking classes would come the designers of the future. Perhaps the man who may envision your home on paper, or whose concerts you will anticipate, might well have first realized his potential under the skillful and patient guidance of Clark's fine arts staff.

Critical analysis by fellow students is essential to future artists.

The Shop, Is A Vital Element At Clark

admired, or a book appreciated, may have had its origin in one of the many elective classes available here at Clark. Skills useful not only in the "working world" but also as a highly personal creative outlet were developed, as well as a keen sense of pride in individual expression, and an awareness of new-found creative capacity. The importance of that pride to the preservation of the process of intellectual expansion was shown to be well understood by the executors of Clark's fine arts curriculum in their unfailing encouragement of students' creative inclinations.

Vocal and instrumental musicians combine their talents to give the all-school musical. All practices are held after school or during the evening. Opening night was reached after two months of practice.

Mr. Dycus offers constructive criticism to a flute duet. These extra instructions further improve technique and style.

People, often unable to say exactly what they feel, turned to music to express their thoughts. This year approximately one-third of Clark's student body chose to express themselves in this way.

Vocal music classes met three to five times a week. These students learned history and theory through singing contemporary and classical songs. Some individuals entered local music contests to gain more experience. Instrumental musicians journeyed outside the classroom to play for local school and church programs. Skills learned in school were employed when members formed dance bands and presented musicals.

Organized this year was the Brass of '68, who played music in the fashion of the Tijuana Brass. The six boys entertained at a band concert and during half-time of a basketball game. Vocal and instrumental musicians combined their talents to produce an all-school musical.

Diligence, skill, and practice were required of all musicians. The discovery of hidden abilities often directed students into unexpected avocations. Music enriched the lives of all devoted instrumentalists.

The timing in "If By His Spirit" challenges Clark's top-notch Concert Choir. Mr. Church gives the downbeat as rehearsal continues.

Our Potential Journalists Prepare

Journalism is exclusively a summer course at Clark. Practical experience in yearbook and newspaper work is stressed for the students enrolled in this class. The students journeyed to Chicago and Hammond to see how various newspapers are published. By putting out summer editions of the Pioneer News, students learned to operate the machines, write effective editorials, lay out stories on a page, and do general newspaper work.

Anyone wishing to work on the school newspaper or the yearbook is encouraged to take this course in order to prepare himself for the journalistic experiences he will encounter.

Working on heads are Lynn Sotak, Sherry Milligan and Bob Talabay.

Sherry Milligan, Pete Stecy, Ron Murzyn, Gail Walker, and George Yearsich learn production techniques.

Front Row: Mr. Thomas, R. Caspar, C. Levin, K. Skurka, D. Merry.
Second Row: E. Offredo, B. Kussy, D. Carlson, T. Yearsich, F. Sroka participated in the Drivers' Road-E-O.

With the sound of engines and noisy students, driver's ed began. The first time the student was in the car, he learned the parts of the vehicle and how they operate. In the following lessons, he learned the skills of driving, such as: steering, forward and backward; right, left, and three-point turns; and signaling. The last two weeks were spent learning to park properly, both angle and parallel. During the course of the summer, each group took a two hour trip to a place of its choice, drove on an expressway, received a taste of night driving, and learned to change a flat tire.

Last spring, Clark and the other Hammond schools participated in a driver's Road-E-O. Drivers were required to drive through obstacle courses and were graded on their performance. Not only did Clark have the best girl and boy drivers, Karen Skurka and Frank Sroka, but also was rated the winning school.

M. Gawrys and D. Gilpin demonstrate proper method of parking.

Magazine Drive And

Cabinet—T. Whiteside, E. Tangalos, K. Dudzik, K. Skurka, H. Stecy

To provide the student body with a means of communication, to promote citizenship, and to regulate student activities were the objectives of this year's Student Council. The new council began early by sponsoring a successful summer dance and by printing football programs and student directories.

The council also introduced the first chess and ping-pong tournament in the history of Clark. A magazine drive was conducted to secure necessary funds for assemblies and other activities. In addition, a new intramural sports program enthused Clarkites. Council hall monitors and flag raisers activated good citizenship. The year's efforts culminated in the election of the new Student Council officers for 1967-1968.

French Club Enjoyed Taste Of Paris

The five year old French Club again worked to give its members a deeper insight into French. This was accomplished by adding the knowledge of French culture to the study of the language.

During the monthly meeting, the club used games and discussions to increase the understanding of French. Firsthand descriptions of Paris were given by Miss Sauvain, the sponsor.

The membership of the club increased to eighty members. The beginning club elected Desa Bubnovich, president; Janet Jackin, vice president; Joan Bangert, secretary; and Jeff Justak, treasurer. The advanced club elected Pat Broderick, president; Jeanne Lesar, vice president; Nancy Laurincik, secretary; and Laura Yusko, treasurer.

The two sections joined to build a Homecoming float. Other activities included a bake sale, dance, Christmas party and dinner at a French restaurant in Chicago.

Officers: K. Broderick, N. Laurincik, L. Yusko. J. Lesar was absent at time of picture.

German Town Sparks Enthusiasm

The motto of the German Club, "Einigkeit macht Stark," meaning, "Unity makes strength" was well chosen since the membership of the club has increased almost fifty percent. This increase was attributed to the popular activities of the club.

The money making projects for the year were the car wash, bake sale, and Fasching dance. With the money from these projects, the German Club bought a German magazine subscription and German books for the library. The members went to Lincoln Street, Chicago's German town, and saw phases of German life. With this experience, a Christmas skit was produced for the older German folk of the community.

Latin Float Takes First

Advanced Latin Club Officers: J. Justak, R. Weiner, L. Shifflett, E. Tangalos, G. Yearsick, M. Molson, W. Rudzinski.

Again this year there were four Latin Clubs meeting each Wednesday of the month. The four presidents, Joyce Rzonca, Janice Vrlík, Rick Weiner, and Walt Rudzinski worked together with the club's sponsor, Mrs. Wilcox, throughout the year planning various projects. The Latin Club float won first place in the club car competition in the Homecoming parade.

In December, the Saturnalia, a Roman Christmas party, was held. The Latin Club celebrated Vergil's birthday on October 1, and Cicero's birthday on January 3. A bake sale in November, and a booth at the P.T.A. Food Fair were sponsored by the Latin Club. Next came a dance in February followed by the annual banquet in March. In April, the third annual talent show proceeds were donated to the Hayward Memorial Fund. The club's last project was the Littlest 500 chariot race in May at Clark field.

Something new and exciting is in store for a Clark student this summer. The Latin Club has raised money for a Latin Club Honors Program which would send a Latin student to Italy for six weeks of study. Cooperation and enthusiasm have made this past year a huge success for the Latin Club.

Ballet-Background Of Tradition

The largest Spanish Club in Clark's history, sponsored by Mrs. Encinosa, had a very active and profitable year. The beginning and advanced clubs began the year with their Chiquita Banana float for the Homecoming parade. During the holidays, the combined clubs held a Christmas party which was highlighted by the traditional breaking of the pinata. The project that was initiated last year for the "Honor Program" scholarship was aided by a bake sale sponsored by the combined clubs. In the spring, the Spanish Club journeyed to Chicago to see the Mexican Ballet. The ballet gave a colorful background of folklore and tradition. The club ended the year with the annual party in the gym for all members. The purpose of Spanish Club is not only to learn Spanish, but to actually enjoy the language.

Twirlers: P. Golding, R. Smith, K. Treliniski, M. Krause, B. Tokarz.

With the help of their sponsor, Miss Johnston, the twirlers participated in parades, concerts and half-time shows at football games.

The high-steppin' Pom-Pon girls highlighted this year's athletic events with performances at football and basketball games. Homecoming featured a special routine with the flag corps marching to the tune of "No Matter What Shape."

After years of selling candy and presenting concerts, the Clark Band finally attained their new uniforms. They were first worn at the Winter Concert.

The Concert Choir, one of the finest in the Calumet region, has finished another year of superb music. Under the direction of Mr. Darrell Church, the Concert Choir performed such numbers as "Hallelujah Amen" by George F. Handel, "Sing and Rejoice" by Will James, and other short numbers included in the third annual Panorama of Popular Music.

Another of Clark's prized choral groups was the Girls' Choir. Voices consisting of alto, first soprano, and second soprano compose this group. Songs chosen by Mr. Church for the choir were "Sing unto the Lord a New Song" by Cauperin, "Allelujah" by Mozart, and "Where 'Ere You Walk" by Handel.

Beginning the year with elections, Helen Stecy and Joan Poracky were named co-president of the orchestra directed by Charles Meyette. Highlights from "The Messiah" were performed at the Holiday Concert with the semi-formal uniforms making their debut. Honor soloist Spring Concert and Music Festival ended the Clark Orchestral year.

Musically Oriented Students Obtain

The Boys' and Girls' Choruses, open to all students, performed at all the concerts this year. These beginning choral groups learned the basic fundamentals of music in order to prepare themselves for singing in the more advanced groups, and the select ensembles.

This year, Clark's choral department boasted of having not only one, but two Girls' ensembles.

One group was composed of several girls picked from the Girls' Choir, and the other ensemble consisted of girls selected from the Concert Choir.

The "Serenaders," formally known as the Concert Choir Mixed Ensemble, was an added highlight to all the concerts.

Spontaneous Boosters Back Team

The success of the G.R.C. Booster Club was proven by the spontaneous response of many spirited and enthusiastic boosters. Members were responsible for sign painting, sectional activities and the chartering of buses to our athletic events in South Bend, Cary, and Valparaiso.

The club's major activities included a homecoming display, a trip to a Purdue football game, a hockey game, and a trip to Chicago to see the Ice Follies.

Under the direction of Mr. Oral Watkins, the club concluded another successful year by channeling students' energies to a common goal.

UNICEF Cards Bring Profit

The Forum Club, consisting of 167 members launched its first project of the school year, the UNICEF Christmas Card Drive. As in the past, it was a huge success.

This success initiated a very busy year, which included Theatre parties to Chicago, a one day toboggan trip to Galena Ill., an ice-skating party to the Dorchester Club, and the Colorado trip. The Colorado trip lasted 4 days and the Clarkites ventured to Estes Park, Colorado University and most exciting of all, Pikes Peak.

In the past Forum Club has donated to the John F. Kennedy Library, has adopted an orphan, and has donated money to build a house for a Korean family. The Forum Club also pays the tuition for students who are recipients of the National Science Foundation Institutes at I.U.

Helping those less fortunate was the primary aim of all Y-Teens. This goal was accomplished through several programs held during the year. The main undertaking was a Christmas party for orphans. The highlight of the festivity was the appearance of Santa Claus with a gift for every child. Food, entertainment, and, above all, companionship made the day a joyous and rewarding one for both the orphans and the Y-Teens.

The annual potato chip sale augmented the Y-Teen treasury. The proceeds were used to send two deserving junior members to summer conference to prepare them for leadership in future Y-Teen programs.

Through Y-Teens the girls were trained to become better leaders in tomorrow's society.

Hi-Y Concerts And Dances Swung

Hi-Y, the male counterpart to Y-Teens, was one of the most active clubs at Clark last year. The 50 boys sponsored a fall dance which featured the popular band, "The Boys Next Door". Profits from the dance were donated to the band uniform fund. In January, a "Kritters" and "Squires" concert was held.

The club's sponsor, was Mr. Tom Roman. Rick Yates, the president, was aided by vice president Denis Holmes. Bob Bajda handled the finances while Don Abercrombie served as secretary. A cabinet of seven, helped the officers with their duties. Officers and cabinet met every third Wednesday during activity period.

The final activity was a club-sponsored ski trip to Colorado during Eastern vacation.

With service as it's aim, the Library Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Harriet Lake, completed a busy year. Members of the organization aided students in the selection of books, and assisted Miss Lake with her work.

A Christmas party and a fund raising drive to purchase a book chart were a part of this past years activities. Mrs. Helen Gates' first year as sponsor was marked by a revival of the Literary Club. Meetings were held in an informal atmosphere where members could enjoy such programs as a talk by Mrs. Katherine Benne about her poetry, and engage in such activities as the examination of college literary magazines.

Health Science Clubs Stimulate

Under the direction of Mr. Powell, Biology Club traveled to Coal City, Illinois, for a memorable day of fossil hunting and mountain climbing. The club also visited Argonne National Laboratories for the third consecutive year and toured a pharmaceutical concern in Chicago.

This year, with the guidance of Mrs. Florence Miller, the girls of the Health Careers Club saw movies on the various fields of nursing and listened to guest speakers from hospitals and the Peace Corps. The girls were encouraged to tour nearby hospitals and most of all to consider nursing as a profession.

The Future Physicians' Club, also sponsored by Mr. Edward Powell, was devoted to stimulating and confirming interest in the allied health sciences. Club discussions, educational movies, and tours of medical facilities formed the groundwork of club activities. Although no officers were elected, Ken Dudzik served as de Facto president.

Front Row: Miss McCampbell, sponsor, J. Buksar pres., T. Richards, sec., N. Chapek v. p., D. Brenner, treas., S. Seeley, prog. chairman.

Under the guidance of Miss McCampbell, the Future Teachers of America enjoyed the opportunity to learn by participating in a fall Round-Up at Hammond Tech, and a spring Service Program. Several of the senior members took part in a cadet teaching program.

Janice Buksar held the office of president, and assisting her as vice president, was Nancy Chapek. Terry

Richards served as secretary, Dawn Brenner managed the finances, and Sharon Seely aided the club as the program chairman.

The aim of the club was to encourage and to acquaint the students with the most honored profession of teaching.

The Future Secretaries' Club provided information about the work of stenographers concerning duties, expectations and needed skills.

At each monthly meeting a former Clark graduate spoke to the girls telling them how she obtained her job, her experience in finding it, and a preview of a typical day at the office.

The sponsor, Miss Coughlan, helped train the girls to be good secretaries of the future.

Large Club Means More Pawns Move

In its second year of existence, Clark's Chess Club has become one of the most popular clubs in the school. Its one hundred and twenty members proved this fact. The club met every activity period because of the increased participation.

Mr. Williamson and Mr. Bocken, Chess Club sponsors, taught newcomers the basic fundamentals and guided the more experienced players to advanced techniques.

An innovation this year was a chess problem of the week, posted on the bulletin board, for the members to solve. The club also sponsored a very successful club chess tournament.

AVO Aids In Augmenting Curricula

This year marked the thirteenth year that A.V.O. has been serving the school. Under the capable leadership of Mr. Thomas, these boys learned to operate movie and slide projectors, tape recorders, and microphones.

A.V.O.'s effectiveness was increased this year with the addition of a new, self-threading projector for the language department.

These boys made it possible for interesting supplementary materials to be used in the classrooms. Several of A.V.O.'s more experienced members showed the annual Red Cross movie.

A money-making project was undertaken to send two boys to the A.V.O. Conference at I.U. Dave Hauck and Jesse Martinez represented Clark last year.

The 35-member high school Red Cross met every third Wednesday during the activity period. Officers were Linda Gumkowski, Pam Scepkowski, Kathy Demas, and Donna Kalina. These four girls directed the activities throughout the year with the aid of sponsor Miss Ide.

The major fund raising project was sponsoring the annual Red Cross movie. Proceeds from this were used to gather educational, recreational, health and safety supplies for an overseas gift chest.

The last activity was an "adopt a friend" project, run in connection with Riverside School. Through this campaign the Red Cross bought clothes for a needy child, and made and bought items for the veterans' hospital.

A large part of the credit for the smooth running of our assemblies, plays, and concerts, went to our stage crew. When there was a curtain to be pulled, a drop was right on cue along with a mind full of helpful ideas. There can be no contradiction to the fact that the Stage Crew has helped to make this year a wonderful one.

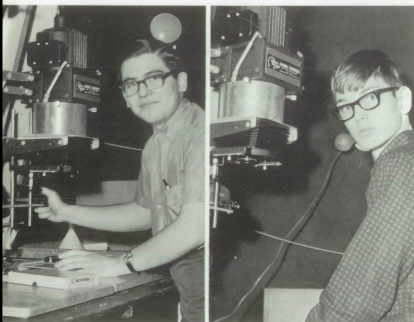

Photography Club members not only did a valuable service to the school, but also got experience for a useful hobby. The boys took pictures at dances, assemblies and games. Some of these pictures were used in the Powder Horn, Pioneer News, or on the bulletin board.

New Process Highlights 1967 Yearbook

This year brought a change in the printing process of the yearbook. A switch was made from letterpress to the simpler and less expensive off-set. With the money saved, four color pictures were added to the book. The home room that bought the most yearbooks in the subscription drive received their names printed in gold on the covers of their books. The staffs of both the book and the paper spent a day at the Valparaiso Journalism Seminar learning to perform their respective duties efficiently and correctly.

The editor and assistant editor spent two weeks last summer at the Indiana High School Institute at Indiana University.

Editor Helen Stecy and assistant Joan Poracky crop pictures.

Correspondents: C. Peters, S. Smith, B. Ruf, absent K. Enright.

The Pioneer News staff spent hours meeting weekly deadlines, reporting news, and recording sports. Work on the paper did not end seventh period, it continued through the whole day. Students gave up study halls, lunch hours, and free time after school.

Editor, Barb Repay, and Assistant Editor, Marilou Molson, supervised the publication of thirty-two weekly issues. Special two-page advertisements highlighted this years paper. The Pioneer News received a first class rating from the National Scholastic Press Association. The PN is also a member of Columbia University Scholastic Press, and Quill and Scroll Society.

Gymnastics Begins A New Tradition

The Clark gymnastics squad got under full swing this year with a new coach and a dedicated corps of contortionists. Due to the efforts of Coach Mike Johnson and past coach Joe Franklin, Clark is one of the first schools in the area to boast an established gymnastics team.

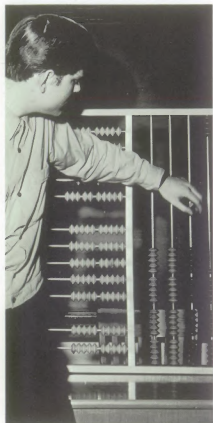

The stalwart sophomores leading this years entourage included Barry Hargett and Frank Foreman, experts in floor exercise, tumbling, and trampoline. Jack Klasen, a freshman, holds first position in the rings and parallel bars.

ATHLETICS

Clark Pioneers Start In Slump, But

The fire burned slowly under the Pioneer Gridmen this season, almost to the point of sputtering. However, in mid-season it finally took hold and burst into a full blaze. The Pioneers walked onto the Gavit field holding a 0-4 record. They walked off the field holding a 41-6 victory. In the next week's game, Hammond High was crushed 12-0 by a fine defensive effort. Homecoming was a success as Tech was defeated 21-0. After this game the Pioneer fortunes came to an end. First, Roosevelt ended the three game winning streak by a lopsided 16-0 score. Then in the annual, closing game, Whiting toppled Clark by the slimmest margin, 13-12.

Although the Gridmen earned a 3-6 record for the year, there were the unforgettable high points. The rugged defensive unit, headed by Tom and George Yearsich, held opposition scoreless for twelve consecutive quarters. One of the brightest parts of the year was Duane Duracz's 100 yard kickoff return against the Whiting Oilers.

The successes of the 1966 season can be attributed to the Senior lettermen: W. Turpin, L. Peters, B. Theissen, D. Holmes, E. Offredo, S. Hicko, L. Shifflett, D. Fortner, T. Yearsich, D. Abercrombie, and J. Milligan.

Next year, lettermen P. Straby, M. Dzurocik, G. Yearsich, and D. Duracz will provide the nucleus of a winning ball club.

Split end Dennis Holmes makes a great catch that gets a long gain.

Halfback Jerry Milligan fights for that extra needed yardage.

Gridmen Make Homecoming A Success;

Pioneer Coaches: E. Powell, A. Peterson, and R. Williams

The sturdy Clark offense rolls over Gavitt as the Pioneers pile up long yardage.

A 1-4 record marked a poor season for Clark's reserve football team. After being handed sound defeats by Hammond High and Tech, the reserves bounced back to stomp Whiting, 27-0. Although lacking experience and great numbers, this year's team had plenty of go each game. The whole season wasn't glum, however. In the game against Tech, Andy Miterko went all the way on a kickoff to give Clark those badly needed six points. The defeat of Whiting by 27 points did not bring tears to anyone's eyes, either. The most disappointing game of the whole season was the Roosevelt game in which a Rough Rider ran an 85 yard punt back for the only score.

Under the leadership of new coach Robert Schwingendorf, the Frosh team presented an encouraging 5-3 record. Losing only one game against a Hammond school, Morton, the frosh placed second in City competition.

Third singles man Rick Weiner returns a difficult shot. Rick's deliberate play landed him a 4-5 record.

C. Pearson and C. Grinstead show the mental and physical co-ordination of a fine first doubles team. They achieved a 4-4 record.

Skip Rudzinski displays the powerful backhand which earned him the first singles position and a 5-7 record, the team high.

Last year proved to be very disappointing for Clark's tennis team. The Heinsmen without a single letterman returning, ended the season with three victories and seven defeats.

The tennis Tigers started off the season with a victory against Gary Roosevelt, defeating them 5-0. The Pioneers then lost the next four. The first loss went to Hammond High, 0-5; the second went to E.C.W., 1-4; the third to Horace Mann, 0-5; and the fourth to Tech, 1-4. The Racketmen bounced back to smash E.C.R. 4-1, but lost to a tough Valporaiso squad, 1-4. The Heinsmen went on to win over the Tolleston Blue Devils, 4-1, and finished the season by losing to Gary Lew Wallace, 1-4.

The Pioneer ace distance runner was J. Schaffenberger. The co-captains of the team were John Schaffenberger and Tom Whiteside.

This year's Cross Country team, led by co-captains J. Schaffenberg and T. Whiteside and under the direction of Coach Ed Shields, finished the two-month season with a 6-12 record. The bright spots of the year included defeating Tech three straight times, the development of some young runners, and a new nickname.

The Bluebirds managed several third place finishes in the tough Northwest Conference. Among the teams the Harriers beat were E.C.W., Horace Mann, Whiting, and Tech.

The lettermen for the year were J. Schaffenberg, T. Whiteside, J. Haddad, M. Duhon, B. Bobin, M. Leland, and B. Navta. Only three seniors will be lost to next year's team.

Pioneers Shine In Double Overtime

The Clark Pioneers under the guidance of mentor Dave Hein showed an abundance of determination and individual talent but failed as a team. The roundballers did, however, show the symptoms of a jelling team on numerous occasions. The spark of teamwork could be seen in near Pioneer upsets of the Valpo Vikings and Gary Roosevelt Panthers, the team who eventually captured the regional crown. The Pioneers also showed unity in their upset victories over Gavit and Horace Mann.

Especially commendable in individual performance was Don Abercrombie, who averaged 20.0 points per game.

B-Squad Plays Their Games Closely

Clark's Basketball B-Team opened a dismal 5-13 season with a promising victory over Lake Central. But, as the roundball season wore on, the victories came few and far between. Nevertheless, the season was highlighted by two victories over cross-town rival Whiting, a rout of Highland and a tough victory over Hammond High. The Settlers always played a close game.

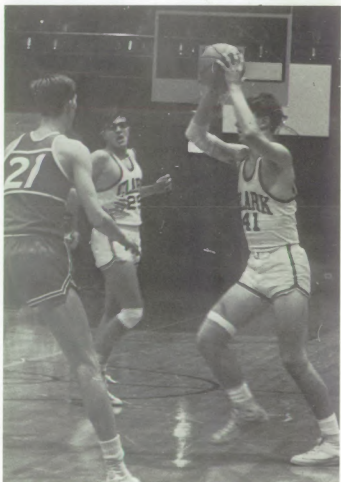

A review of the score book revealed the fact that the B-Squad was only outscored 889-867 over the entire season. This point-spread showed that the season record could have been reversed with a little luck and a few points in the close ones. Settlers were led by the consistent scoring of Bob Navta.

During time-out Coach Daugherty gives the B-Squad team a pep-talk with the hope that it will stimulate them to victory.

Although the Clark grapplers finished the season with a 1-8-1 record, the team displayed unusual spirit and determination. Under the guidance of Coach Praed, the spirited underclassmen guarantee many successful seasons in the future.

Seniors Bill Domasica and Denis Holmes placed fourth in the Sectional, while Mike Leland captured a first. Mike advanced to the Regional, lost in the morning session but defeated a strong opponent in the afternoon round to capture third place. Mike is to be congratulated on his four years of varsity wrestling without suffering a single defeat by a pin.

The Clark track season was marked by regular winning by the Frosh-Soph team and record setting by the varsity.

The Frosh-Soph runners finished first in the Conference with a record of 19-0. Other important firsts were the City Indoor and the Clark Frosh-Soph Relays. Individual leaders of this team were George Yearsich in the half, B. Bobin in the quarter, and C. Foreman in the broad jump.

The varsity Cindermen finished with a less impressive overall record, third in the Conference, but with a greater number of individual heroics. J. Schaffenberg set a City record in the half, and Jeff Grigson took the Conference championship in the shotput.

Coach Oral Watkin's last year as golf coach proved exciting but less than happy; the teebreakers lost ten matches by ten strokes or less. A 12-13 overall record was accumulated, yet when playing for big stakes the boys managed to pull out an 8-5 Conference record. The team finished fourth in Conference competition.

The Sod Busters' most exciting day came in May when they defeated Hammond High, 170-181. For almost eight years previous to this, Clark had not beaten a Hammond High golf team on the varsity level.

The graduating lettermen were B. Bubnovich and B. Hendry. The returning lettermen will be B. Hendry, R. Matlon, R. Weiner, and J. Kruczek.

As always, popcorn was a common sight in the halls as the C-Club sold it after school. Ushers and program sellers were used at all the basketball games. Other services included popcorn at frosh and B-squad games, ticket takers at wrestling meets and escorts for the Queen and her court at Homecoming.

Under President Wendell Turpin and his cabinet, the C-Club took time out from its duties to plan a dance and stage the annual banquet later in the spring.

The front lines of the cheering sections this year were held by the Varsity, B-Squad, and Freshman Cheerleaders. The cheerleaders not only led cheers, but also increased school spirit with cheers, pep assemblies, and tags.

During the summer, the Varsity Cheerleaders attended

150 points are needed for a member to receive her numerals, 250 for her monogram and 350 for her letter. Points are received for participating in various sports including swimming, basketball, bowling, and softball. Other points are awarded for involvement in activities such as the spook house, selling refreshments at football games, and working on the Homecoming float.

Throughout the year G.A.C. provided a chance for physical fitness through activities and promoted good sportsmanship through competition.

Officers top to bottom: B. Duhon sec., K. Foster v. p., L. Antilla, head of sports, C. Dostatni treas., S. Smith pres., Miss Myers.

Dale Chovan battles an opponent.

Physical Fitness And

Phil Perhach acquires basketball skills under Mr. Daugherty.

Happiness is being able to stand on ones head for boys in Mr. Johnson's gym class.

Healthy Competition Are Stressed

Clark's gym classes provided a variety of activities aimed at keeping Clarkites in top physical condition.

Girls, under the supervision of Mrs. Kompier and Miss Myers, learned poise, good sportsmanship, and fundamentals and skills of popular sports. Girls participated in softball, volleyball, basketball, and gymnastics.

Coach Johnson and Coach Daugherty organized a diverse program of athletics. Boys competed in football, basketball, and gymnastics in order to build endurance.

The Student Council initiated a new and varied intramural program which ran a gambit of intra-school competition.

Table-tennis and chess tournaments were conducted in the fall. In the frosty winter months, basketball, volleyball, and bowling helped to break the monotony of an often dull winter's day. Flag football, softball, and a golf tournament arrived with spring.

The intramural program is designed with the hope of promoting physical fitness and healthy student competition.

CLARKITES

Dr. Oliver Rapp began his first school year as superintendent last September. Before assuming administrative duties, Dr. Rapp was principal of Hammond High for twelve years and earned his bachelor's, master's and doctor's degrees at the University of Illinois. During World War II, he was stationed in Europe as executive officer of the CIC chief. While overseas, he earned the rank of Lt. Colonel and was awarded the Bronze Star. Today Dr. Rapp is active in community groups, such as the Red Cross and Secretary of the Hammond Commission on Human Relations.

The School Board generously allotted money to have our gym floor refinished, and to have our girl' locker room remodeled. Also, classrooms were painted and new seats were installed in the auditorium. Newly elected for the School Board in 1963 were Edgar Hudson and Ralph Potesta. Re-elected at that date were Clair Stern, Charles Scott and Henry Eggers.

Former principal, Dr. Oliver Rapp took over the responsibility of Hammond School Superintendent last September.

Gym Floor Compliments Of Board

School Board Members: Seated: Claire Stern, Charles Scott and Henry Eggers. Standing: Ralph Potesta and Edgar Hudson.

Mr. Lockey has completed his sixth year as principal. We always appreciate his friendliness and spirit.

Mr. Lockey Arouses School Spirit

George Rogers Clark's "Number One Booster," Mr. Durward D. Lockey has completed his sixth year in serving as principal. Mr. Lockey not only is active as principal but is also a member of the Hammond Lions Club and the Community Chest. During the spring and summer he enjoys gardening at home.

Mr. Lockey has a cheerful greeting for all of his students and faculty. He is never too busy to take time out for a pep rally where his cheers echo around the gym. We admire him for talking to everyone and anyone. Mr. Lockey believes in working hard but in enjoying himself.

Mr. Corder spends the better part of his day in counseling sessions.

Mr. Arnold G. Corder, assistant principal at George Rogers Clark High School, attended Indiana University and Indiana State where he obtained his B.S. and M.S. degrees.

In his spare time Mr. Corder enjoys gardening, sports of all kinds and participation in many Civic organizations. He, in addition, is the sponsor of the National Honor Society. Mr. Corder was formerly a counselor but due to his excellent capabilities was named Assistant Principal. No one can assign ninth hours and suspensions like Mr. Corder, and his friendly grin will remain in the minds of many a Clark student.

Mr. Raymond A. Buell, one of the members of our fine counseling staff, has the hectic job of counseling, guiding, and keeping in line this year's Freshman Class, the class of '70. Those who are prone to being tardy or absent are well aware of Mr. Buell's main job as Director of Attendance.

Mr. Buell graduated from Indiana State with his Bachelor's degree and earned his Master's from Indiana State.

If you can't find Mr. Buell in his well known office, he will most probably be found bowling, golfing, or working in his garden.

A ninth-hour is cheerfully assigned by Mr. Buell.

Counselors Touch Clarkites World

Miss Edna Howe attended the State College of Iowa where she earned her B. S. Degree, and the University of Wisconsin for her Ph. M. She is the sponsor of the Junior Class, Supervisor of the testing program and girls' counselor at Clark High School. Miss Howe is fond of reading and listening to music. She also enjoys traveling around the country. Miss Howe is always willing to help students in need, especially at this important time in high school life. The job of helping students choose their college and finance their education begins in the junior year and Miss Howe handles it with fine capability. The members of the Class of '68 appreciate her efforts. Mr. Edwin Martin, former physics teacher, counsels the sophomore and senior classes. He received his B. S. and M. S. degrees at Indiana State University. He also completed work at New York University, Indiana University, and Purdue University. Mr. Martin can often be seen looking up school records, aiding a senior in his choice of colleges, or just lending a helping hand as a friend.

In his spare time, Mr. Martin enjoys fishing, gardening, golf, bowling, and a bit of encouraging behind the scenes of concerts. He remarks, "the Class of 1967 is my first and best graduating class."

Mr. Martin speaks softly but carries the stick of patient persuasion.

Mr. Martin stands in front of his bulletin board. Not only is it laden with scenic pictures but with educational material.

While They Juggle IBM Cards

Staffers Run School Efficiently

Replenishing the mind and stomachs of Clark students is the rewarding job of the cafeteria staff. Preparing well-balanced meals and serving good food is their chief aim. This year a new freezer and a new stove were added to the cafeteria equipment. Many thanks to the underrated cafeteria staff.

It's 3:40 P.M., the bell has rung, and the students have been dismissed. Now Clark's own "White Tornado" staff of four men and five women set about the endless task of keeping the school clean. Dusting, sweeping, and cleaning blackboards are just a few of the tasks which keep our janitorial staff busy. We appreciate them deeply.

The bell schedule on Wednesday, and the daily bulletin are a few of the many services performed by the efficient office staff, composed of Mrs. Barr, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Carlson, and Mrs. Kolbus filed the enrollment cards for the entire school system. A high point for the office staff this year was the discovery of a mouse wrapped in a shipment of magazines.

The daily bulletins are just a few of the mimeographed jobs handled by Mrs. Barr. The office staff is vital to efficient administration.

Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Szabo begin preparing for a busy lunch hour with a supply of delicious muffins and a tasty dessert.

Two of Clark's veteran custodians Chester Centkowski and Fritz Krause take time out from their work to pose for a picture.

Seniors Complete Finishing Touches

Senior Class Officers, Standing: V. Pres. Rich Matlon, Pres. Jerry Milligan. Sitting: Sec. Linda Dzurilla, Treas. Sharon Bellovich.

The Senior year adds the memorable finishing touches to the class of 1967. Shades of dances, helpfulness of class sponsors Miss Johnston and Mr. Erickson, golds and blues of a class ring, blues and whites of athletic events, pastels of the prom, and sketches of caps and gowns combine to form a complete portrait of a '67 Clarkite. The Freshman year splashed with green launched a first dance, "Spring Fever", "Superstition Swing", and the first standardized rings highlighted the Sophomore year. "Slash the Trojans" float won a first place for Sophomores of the Class of '67. The Junior year sparkled with another first place ribbon for the Homecoming float, "Monstro the Whale". "Our Town" the Junior class play received a standing ovation. Danc-ing closed the year for Juniors at their prom "Midsummer Night's Dream" with a Dunes safari the next day. A final Homecoming and Senior Skit, "Case of the Missing Coach" was the beginning of the end of painting the Class of '67 portrait. A second place ribbon for "Action Giant" float, "Good Grief, We're Graduating", the Senior class dance, and Ideal Seniors added smiles to the senior portrait. The Senior Banquet, and commencement closed a year of achievement and fun for the '67 Clarkite. The blues of sadness, remembrance, and the whites of happiness, the future were the finishing touches for the fighting Pioneers of '67.

Of A Clark Portrait And Sketch A Future

Senior sponsors Miss Johnston and Mr. Erickson grin while thinking to themselves "Good Grief, They're Graduating".

Pygmalion, "It," And Service Day

Junior officers and sponsors: Mr. George Huber, sponsor, Jerry Bank, pres., Bob Bobin, treas., Kathy Carpenter, sec., Bob Ruf, vice pres., Mrs. Carol Huber.

The Class of 1968 closed out another highly successful year. The juniors swept first place honors in the annual Homecoming yell contest and in the competitive float judging. Betty Lesak was elected to represent her class in the Queen's court.

The inventive juniors sponsored their class dance, "It," which was a tremendous success. Members with dramatic talents participated in Pygmalion, playing to a full house.

The traditional Junior Prom provided an enjoyable and memorable evening for all who attended. For the first time the prom was held on a Saturday, May twenty-seventh. Couples dined before dancing to the music of Roddy Rogers and his band. The juniors now look forward to being the seniors of G.R.C.

Following Tradition, Sophomores

The sophomore class launched their second year as Clarkites by constructing their class float, "Toast 'Um" for Homecoming. Representing the sophomore class was attendant Linda Seth.

The election of officers began class activities. Serving the class of '69 as president was Spike Murphree while Sherry Milligan, vice-president, aided him. Cindy Gaspar served as secretary. Mark Spaulding handled the finances for the class.

The arrival of standardized class rings sparked the sophomores' year during the Christmas holidays. A second class dance was staged in February and proved to hop up financial aid for next year's prom. Sophomores now await the pipe-filled, prom-filled life of juniors.

Frosh Come Abounding In Numbers,

On the first day of school the Freshman Class had already broken a record. Two hundred and eighty-nine members made the class the largest in Clark's history.

Adapting quickly to a new world, freshmen built their first Homecoming float and selected Jeanne Milligan to represent their class in the Queen's court. Energy-packed members pulled second in the Student Council Tug-Of-War. Election of officers in December gave President Joe Steliga, Vice President Sally DePeugh, Secretary Celeste Chiluski and Treasurer Joan Bangert an opportunity to guide their energetic classmates. Class sponsors Mr. Roman and Mr. Astle offered excellent suggestions and helped stage a successful class dance.

An open book can open doors

In our recruiting we ask that applicants have completed their High School education. That's because we try always to fill higher, more responsible jobs from the ranks of our employees. And the records show—the better the employee's education, the better he is at his job—and the better he does for himself.

Inland employees continue to gain knowledge and experience in special trades through formal apprenticeship programs offered in the following trades—Machinist, Patternmaking, Boilermaking, Welding, Shop Electrician, Wireman, Mason and Pipefitter.

Many concentrate on certain phases of steelmaking by working in production while others work in laboratories helping to assure quality or developing new and better products for our customers.

How about you? Inland Steel is steadily expanding. More and more opportunities will be open to you as our growth continues. Are you ready?

We've Cleaned Our Brushes, The Portrait Is Painted

To say that we had mixed emotions as the final pages of the 1967 Powder Horn were mailed is an understatement. Relief and regret were experienced simultaneously. The endless hours of cropping, composing, and compiling were finished.

The book could not have been completed without the help of numerous people, some who were not even on the staff. Their time and effort was priceless and any praise is not enough. A special thanks is due to Mr. George Muir and Mr. Frank Woschitz for their patience and advice.

The book has been more than a job; it has helped us to know ourselves and each other. We have tried to portray, in a few school hours, the year nineteen sixty-seven at Clark. We hope we have succeeded in painting a portrait of our year.
